

Behavioral Medicine Program Director

The College of Health Sciences at Midwestern University invites applications for the administrative position of Program Director of the Behavioral Medicine Program-Downers Grove Campus. The Behavioral Medicine Program offers the degree Doctor of Psychology (PsyD) in Clinical Psychology. This doctoral curriculum integrates theory, research and professional training as the foundation for the general practice of psychology. In addition, the Behavioral Medicine Program teaches psychology courses in the osteopathic medical curriculum and allied health programs. The successful candidate must have a doctoral degree in clinical psychology from an APA-accredited program with at least 5 years of clinical and academic experience, should possess relevant experience in and demonstrated commitment to teaching, a record of scholarly activity, excellent communication skills, and the ability to lead the Behavioral Medicine Program through the APA-accreditation process. The Program Director should have the academic credentials commensurate with the faculty rank of Associate Professor; this is a tenure-track position. Salary and benefits are competitive. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.
