For the 2016 CAPIC match, students from Out-of-State Associate academic Program Members may participate during the normal online match process, and not simply in our Clearinghouse phase.

CAPIC DOCTORAL ACADEMIC PROGRAM MEMBERSHIP

As of 11/5/2015

Other Eligible Out-of-State Associate Doctoral Academic Program members:

To help address the imbalance for students and our internship sites, CAPIC has invited qualified out-of-state (OOS) doctoral academic programs to participate in the CAPIC match process. For the 2016 CAPIC match, students from approved OOS academic programs may participate during the normal online match process, and not simply in our Clearinghouse phase.

CAPIC considers APA-accredited doctoral academic programs as having the requisite academic rigor and training to meet CAPIC standards. A list of these eligible academic programs is provided here.

Other regionally accredited but non-APA-accredited doctoral academic programs are encouraged to seek CAPIC membership by reviewing the academic program membership criteria and going through the standard application review process outlined on the Join CAPIC webpage.

For the 2016 CAPIC match, students from approved OOS academic programs may participate during the normal online match process, and not simply in our Clearinghouse phase.

Non-CAPIC-Member Doctoral Academic Programs:

Except as noted immediately above, students from schools which are not CAPIC members are not eligible to register nor participate in the CAPIC match process, including Clearinghouse.

- CAPIC is a membership organization and CAPIC internships are available only to students from CAPIC-member Doctoral Academic Programs, including associate academic programs.
- Only students from CAPIC member or associate doctoral programs are authorized to state that they have completed a CAPIC internship.

Doctoral Academic programs interested in joining CAPIC should review the criteria and procedures posted on the CAPIC website.
